JEFF ALPERIN

GARBER FAMILY HONOR ROLL AWARD

A JELF board member for 29 years, Jeff Alperin, a former corporate lawyer and entrepreneur, truly stands out. A graduate of Brown University and University of Chicago Law School, Jeff serves as Co-founder and CEO of cc:Clients and as an adjunct professor at Emory Law School. His extensive community involvement includes serving as Board Chair of Atlanta’s JF&CS and as past Board President of JELF from 2009 to 2011. Jeff and his fiance Michelle Cooper will be married in January 2024.

STEVE & EYDIE KOONIN FAMILY SERVICE AWARD

GREG GAYLIS

Greg Gaylis was raised in San Diego, California, and moved to Atlanta in 2014. He received his B.S. from the University of California, San Diego, and J.D. from the University of San Diego School of Law. An attorney at Arnall Golden Gregory LLP, Greg is also very involved in the Jewish community, serving on the board of Congregation Beth Tefillah and the ALEF Fund committee at The Epstein School. Greg and his wife Jade live in Sandy Springs with their two children (and #3 on the way). Since 2017, Greg has been an instrumental member of JELF’s Executive Board taking on numerous initiatives.

ANDY GROSS

Andy Gross grew up in Richmond, Virginia, and graduated from the University of Georgia. He has been residing in Atlanta for over 25 years. Currently serving as Director of Mergers & Acquisitions at Convergent, Andy is passionate about philanthropy and eagerly contributes his business acumen and networking skills to actively support JELF as an Executive Board member. Based in Sandy Springs with his wife Abi, and their rescue dog, Eli, Andy has continued to step up and make a big difference at JELF in a short period of time.
